

Inquiry into the Animal Care and Protection Amendment Bill 2022

Submission No: 527
Submitted by: Izzy Quinn
Publication: Make my submission and my name public
Attachments: No attachment

Submitter Comments:

QLD needs to amend many laws regarding animal cruelty, including but not limited to banning glue traps. We need proper definitions in our legislation that classify animals as sentient beings who deserve care and respect. Our animal rights laws are despicable and the loopholes are exploited constantly. I will never understand why anyone would choose to leave an innocent animal to die a long and painful death, but it happens all the time due to the accessibility of these traps. We need to recognise the beauty of our country, our wildlife, our companions, and ban glue traps. We also need to amend pet care laws to ensure that the RSPCA can take better legal action against animal abusers instead of having to leave the poor animals to suffer.