Please ban horrible glue traps. These are the cruelest of the cruel, even for the target species. They can trap non target species as well and regardless of instructions of use they are dangerous anywhere. Native species have been getting caught in them and it usually ends in horrific death. No need to have these brutal and archaic things here in Australia. We don't have a great record here in Australia regarding respect for animals of any sort. This is 2022 people. Not all about humans anymore. Other creatures deserve respect and protection. Surely we have gone beyond being cruel to every other living creature and not give it a second thought. Sometimes I am ashamed to be Australian.
