Whilst I reside in Victoria I am submitting my concerns as I'm hoping the QLD review and legislative changes to ban glue traps will alert other State Governments to undertake matching changes to ban the glue traps. The loss of wildlife on these traps can be avoided easily if the traps are banned. The natural world around us, and the wildlife that inhabit it, are highly vulnerable to human actions. Its clearly evident that changing climate related policies and legislation to preserve liveable spaces has been very challenging but to ban glue traps can very easily be enacted with no economic loss and a significant gain for wildlife. Banning glue traps is a simple action and one that will provide a lasting and highly beneficial safeguard for wildlife already facing ever increasing threats to their survival. I truly hope the review support and implements the banning of glue traps. Regards, [REDACTED]
