

Inquiry into the Animal Care and Protection Amendment Bill 2022

Submission No: 1128
Submitted by: Caroline Eldering
Publication: Make my submission and my name public
Attachments: No attachment

Submitter Comments:

Glue traps merely serve to immobilise the insects/birds/animals they trap and unless they are released they suffer a lingering death by dehydration or starvation. This fate is, and has been, suffered by protected animals and endangered species as there is, and cannot be, any control over what these devices trap. There is a multitude of other ways to control pests that do not subject the victim to prolonged pain and suffering. These glue traps should not be allowed to be sold