Please make the selling and supplying of glue traps illegal. These are cruel and inhumane, and no animal should ever die in such a heinous way, or worse have to tear or bite off legs, wings, etc to break free. There are many other more suitable ways to eliminate insects that would not endanger a vast array of other smaller, and even more precious animals. I believe that what sets us, humans apart from most other animals is empathy. Animals are so very deserving of that empathy, without them we are lost. Unnecessary cruelty to any living creature is just not acceptable for any reason. Bunnings and other suppliers have a range of pest control solutions, removing this ONE from stock shouldn't cause any real damage to sales. But it will drastically improve the lives of so many birds, bats, frogs, and others.
