The issue is not the breeds of dog, but the owners of these dogs. Traditionally these breeds don't appeal to old ladies, more so males. A lack of regulations with breeders and sick sadistic individuals cause the issue. With these breeds banned what will be next?? More and more until no one has a family pet?? Pets are like family to many and I have had multiple interactions with these breeds and have fostered dogs and done dog training. When dogs are trained or retrained in the right scenarios with love and kindness there is no need to enforce breed specific legislation.
