To Whom it May Concern,

It is very unfair that Queenslanders and other Australians for that matter are even charged a Toll to start with,there was supposed to have been enough revenue from the excise on fuel to cover the cost of new roads, not just in Queensland but Australia Wide.

Older Australians who still drive are being penalised as well not only because of the cost of tolls but because there are no longer toll gates anywhere and these older Australians are avoiding tolls because they are not computer literate and have not set up accounts to be able to use the tolls.That is if they could afford to use them in the first place.

Australia is a big country and the cost of transporting goods from one place to an other is already contributing to the price of consumable goods every day,adding more unnecessary costs day by day.The cost of overpriced tolls only adds more pricing pressure to these cost of transport.

Tolls are just another way of taxing an already overtaxed population,if Governments were better run and more streamlined we wouldn't have all these unnecessary burdens.
