

From: [REDACTED]
To: Transport and Resources Committee
Subject: car immobilisers
Date: Wednesday, 7 April 2021 5:41:15 PM

Hi, the current cost for a key pad, type immobiliser, is about $100 and fitting is about $150- -$250 (depending on who does this, and how it is done, different makes require different times to fit) maybe a total cost of $250 - $350.

No code used, car wont go anywhere. latest types have parking modes, time settings etc. Easy to use. A small cost to pay to make sure your car is not stolen. I have ordered one to fit to my car.

Trevor Ramm. [REDACTED]