I am in favour of Biobased fuels like E10, however it is VERY important to also to continue having regular unleaded petrol available (without any ethanol) to fuel older cars and classic, collectable and vintage cars that are not designed to run with Biobased fuels. Further, Ethanol fuels will often cause corrosion when left in fuel systems for a periods longer than a few months, this is a major concern for vintage and classic car owners. Please ensure regular 91 RON unleaded will continue to be available.
