It is time the magistrates were given the power to ensure offenders are dealt with in a manner that ensures they are unlikely to offend again, thus time in prison - hard working - We have become a society that no longer considers the overall situation, not only with youth but other offenders. Time to be disciplined. Firstly consider the source of the issues, Home, lack of discipline, School inability to discipline any more - the governments have created the situation we face and now should do something to deal with it...perhaps suspend "human rights" - offenders are quick to call for this, forgetting that the victims also have a case under human rights. Stop pandering, More police, on the "Beat" with the powers to actually "DO SOMETHING"
