Hello my name is Kathleen Doyle on the 8th November 2023 my home was broken into while we were a sleep, they crawled around my bed to get the car keys which we take to bed with us every night, they also took 2 rings and a watch which I cherished dearly also the wallet that was with the car keys they also armed themselves with a pair of scissors from the kitchen draw. Now I sleep with everything locked I even lock myself in the bedroom, I can't sleep very well jumping up with every little noise. I am 70 years old and love my house but it does not feel the same any more. I feel so unsafe all day and night. The car was the last thing from my dead mum why did they have to burnt. I wish things could go back but they can't. I am thinking about getting some counselling as I am not coping very well. Regards Kathleen
