PREFACE

The Queensland Parliamentary Record for the 55th Parliament (24 March 2015 – 29 October 2017) is a comprehensive source of information about the Queensland Parliament since 1860.

While Part 1 of the Parliamentary Record provides a record of the life of the 55th Parliament, Part 2 provides historical information, including an alphabetical register of all members of the Queensland Parliament from 1860 to 2017.

The recent editions of the Parliamentary Record are available on the Parliament's website (www.parliament.qld.gov.au). The website also provides access to two other sources of information. The Former Members Register includes biographical information on all former members of Queensland Parliament. The Record of Proceedings, commonly referred to as Hansard, is the official record of debates and procedures of Queensland Parliament. The complete Hansard from 1860 onwards is also available in a digital and searchable form.

Among notable developments in the 55th Parliament was the passing of the Electoral (Improving Representation) and Other Legislation Amendment Act 2016 (Qld), which received royal assent on 5 May 2016. The Act increased the number of members of the Legislative Assembly from 89 members to 93. This Parliamentary Record is the last in relation to 89 members, which has been the number of members since 1986 when it increased from 82.

The Parliamentary Record for the 55th Parliament has been prepared by staff of the Parliamentary Library and the Chamber, Education and Communication Services team.

The Parliamentary Library would appreciate notification of any discrepancies or errors found by readers. Please contact the Parliamentary Librarian on telephone (07) 3553 6200.

OPPOSITION LEADERS

From 1898

On 30 August 1898 the Australian Labor Party (ALP) accepted the official position of Parliamentary Opposition in the Queensland Parliament. Prior to 1898, loose coalitions of interests were opposed to the Governments of the day. Because of their changeable voting patterns, it is difficult to categorise them as a definitive Parliamentary Opposition. It will be noted that the ALP has had a continuous history as a party, whether in Government or Opposition. However, the non-Labor parties demonstrate a history of changing titles or changing alignments. Where the non-Labor Opposition leader has remained the same, but the party or alignment has altered, the pertinent dates of service are given.

* Not to be confused with the Country and Progressive National Party, which ceased to exist on 6 April 1936. This particular Country-National Party was formed in April 1941, when parliamentary members of the Country Party, without the consent of the Country Party organisation, joined with members of the National Party to create a working coalition in the Parliament. However, on 8 April 1941, a Country Party conference voted to continue as a separate organisation and repudiated the previous fusion.

Note: The Legislative Council was abolished on 23 March 1922, the date on which the abolition bill - The Constitution Act Amendment Act of 1922 - was proclaimed, thus giving Queensland the only unicameral parliament in Australia, and one of the few in the Commonwealth. Abolition had been a platform of successive Labor governments since 1915, but was achieved only by appointment of sufficient additional MLCs to ensure passage of the bill. An attempt had been made in May 1917 to force abolition by passage of a referendum, however the move was not successful, the votes being 116,196 for, and 179,105 against.

REPRESENTATIVES OF QUEENSLAND STATE ELECTORATES 1860 - 2017

Albert

First used as an electorate name under the 1887 redistribution, it survived successive boundary alterations until 1949, when the Darlington and Southport electorates were created. The name was revived in 1959 and retained in the 1971 and 1977 redistributions, though covering a greatly reduced area. Minor changes were made in 1991, including the loss of Carbrook in the north and coastal areas below Paradise Point in the south.

By the 1872 Electoral Districts Act it was reduced to a single member constituency from 1873 until 1932 when the name was dropped as a result of the 1931 redistribution. Logan Established under the 1872 Electoral Districts Act which cut off the southern or Gold Coast part of the electorate of East Moreton to form the seat, it survived boundary alterations in successive redistributions which saw the seat forced closer to the Brisbane area. It was abolished in the 1949 redistribution, with a substantial portion going into Coorparoo, and revived in 1959 for an outer Brisbane rural seat based on Redlands Shire, but dropped again in the 1971 redistribution. In 1986 the name was once again used for an electorate based on the north-eastern part of the Fassifern electorate and the north-western portion of Albert. In 1991 the eastern half of the electorate was lost, leaving it based on the suburbs of Marsden, Browns Plains, Boronia Heights and Park Ridge.

Toowong

Created in the 1887 redistribution, this seat took in the modern suburbs of Paddington, Rainworth, Milton, Rosalie, Toowong and the Mount Coot-tha reserve. The excision of new seats of Paddington and Ithaca in 1911 resulted in an even larger electorate to make up for the loss of the most populated areas, and it now took in all of Moggill as far as the Bremer. In 1923 all of this Western part became Enoggera and Toowong contracted back to the Auchenflower, Toowong, St. Lucia area. In 1935 the former huge area was restored, and in 1949 with the creation of Mount Coot-tha, Toowong returned to its current area. Abolished in the 1991 redistribution and its area absorbed by the new electorate of Indooroopilly and the existing electorate of Mount Coot-tha.

Toowoomba

see also Drayton and Toowoomba

Originally included in the seat of Drayton and Toowoomba, the city was for a brief period an electorate of its own right (1873-78) before being once again coupled with Drayton (1879-1911) this time however as a dual member constituency. From 1911 Toowoomba returned one member, however other electorates (Drayton, East Toowoomba to 1949, Lockyer and North Toowoomba 1949-59) covered parts of the city. In the 1959 redistribution Toowoomba was divided into east and west, and in 1971 re-apportioned into north and south, with some going into Lockyer.

Townsville

Constituted by the Electoral Districts Act of 1878, which provided one member for the seat based on the city of Townsville. The city was divided into two electorates - Townsville and Musgrave by virtue of the Additional Members Act of 1885. From 1886-1912 the seat returned two members, when single electorates were made universal, and the electorates of Townsville and Mundingburra established. In 1923 the northern part of the city was included in Kennedy and the southern part in Mundingburra. The 1959 redistribution abolished Townsville as a seat, dividing the city into Townsville North and Townsville South, but it was restored in the 1971 redistribution without however including the major suburban areas which were located in Townsville South and Townsville West. It now included also a large area of rural Townsville formerly in Hinchinbrook. The 1986 redistribution reduced the area of the seat to the city environs. In the 1991 redistribution the electorate gained a small area from the previous Townsville East and lost its south-west corner to the new seat of Mundingburra.

Warrego

Created by the Additional Members Act of 1864 as a seat in the far south-western corner of the State, based on the Warrego and Paroo River systems, the seat remained basically unchanged until 1991. It has always been a single member constituency. In the 1991 redistribution the electorate extended north west to include Quilpie from the electorate of Gregory and east to take in St George, Dirranbandi and Moonie from the abolished seat of Balonne, while to the north the towns of Blackall and Springsure were lost to Gregory. The 2008 redistribution transferred areas from the Gregory electorate and the Darling Downs electorate to enlarge the seat of Warrego.
