PREFACE

The Queensland Parliamentary Record for the 56th Parliament (13 February 2018 – 6 October 2020) is a comprehensive source of information about the Queensland Parliament since 1860.

Part 1 of the Parliamentary Record provides a record of the 56th Parliament—a parliament to which three First Nations Australian members were elected. In early 2020, the Parliament was required to respond to COVID-19, one of the greatest challenges to face Australians since the Second World War. Between 19 March 2020 and 19 May 2020 only one sitting day was held, during which emergency COVID-19 bills were passed. With the agreement of both the Government and Opposition members, the remainder of the parliamentary term functioned with reduced numbers in the House to ensure members were socially distanced.

Part 2 of the Parliamentary Record provides historical information, including an alphabetical register of all members of the Queensland Parliament since 1860.

Recent editions of the Parliament Record have been available both on the Parliament's website (www.parliament.qld.gov.au) and in print. This 16th edition of the Parliamentary Record marks the first time the Parliamentary Record is to be available as a digital version only.

Other useful sources of information on the Parliament's website include the Former Members Register and the Record of Proceedings (Hansard). The Former Members Register includes more detailed biographical information on all former members of the Queensland Parliament. Hansard is the official record of debate and proceedings of the Queensland Parliament. This information is also available in a searchable digital format from 1860 onwards.

The Parliamentary Record for the 56th Parliament was prepared by the Queensland Parliamentary Library, and the Chamber, Education and Communication Service teams.

While the Queensland Parliamentary Library has taken every care in researching and compiling the information contained in the Parliamentary Record, feedback as to any discrepancies is welcome. Please contact the Parliamentary Librarian by emailing Janet.Prowse@parliament.qld.gov.au.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Publication: Publication of Churchill Fellowship Findings and Report To investigate how public education systems of government in Singapore and Finland develop and prepare leaders for contexts of increased autonomy, decision making, accountability and how these governments manage the challenges of continued vertical fiscal imbalances. Despite these imbalances Singapore and Finland lead the world in education. The study of autonomous local innovation in schools, the leadership skills, abilities and behaviours of the school leaders in these systems is timely in the Australian context to ensure that Queensland and Australia is competitive in a globalised world. Opposition leaders

On 30 August 1898 the Australian Labor Party (ALP) accepted the official position of Parliamentary Opposition in the Queensland Parliament. Prior to 1898, loose coalitions of interests were opposed to the Governments of the day. Because of their changeable voting patterns, it is difficult to categorise them as a definitive Parliamentary Opposition. It will be noted that the ALP has had a continuous history as a party, whether in Government or Opposition. However, the non-Labor parties demonstrate a history of changing titles or changing alignments. Where the non-Labor Opposition leader has remained the same, but the party or alignment has altered, the pertinent dates of service are given.

* Not to be confused with the Country and Progressive National Party, which ceased to exist on 6 April 1936. This particular Country-National Party was formed in April 1941, when parliamentary members of the Country Party, without the consent of the Country Party organisation, joined with members of the National Party to create a working coalition in the Parliament. However, on 8 April 1941, a Country Party conference voted to continue as a separate organisation and repudiated the previous fusion.

First female leader of the Opposition.

Note: The Legislative Council was abolished on 23 March 1922, the date on which the abolition bill - the Constitution Act Amendment Act of 1922 - was proclaimed, thus giving Queensland the only unicameral parliament in Australia, and one of the few in the Commonwealth. Abolition had been a platform of successive Labor governments since 1915, but was achieved only by appointment of sufficient additional members of the Legislative Council to ensure passage of the bill. An attempt had been made in May 1917 to force abolition by passage of a referendum, however the move was not successful, the votes being 116 196 for, and 179 105 against.

Representatives of Queensland State Electorates

ALBERT

First used as an electorate name under the 1887 redistribution, it survived successive boundary alterations until 1949, when the Darlington and Southport electorates were created. The name was revived in 1959 and retained in the 1971 and 1977 redistributions, though covering a greatly reduced area. Minor changes were made in 1991, including the loss of Carbrook in the north and coastal areas below Paradise Point in the south. The electorate was extensively redesigned and renamed Theodore in the 2017 redistribution.

BRISBANE

The 'Town of Brisbane' and the 'Town of South Brisbane' were two of the original electorates set up under the Order-in-Council of 6 June 1859. Except for the 1949 and 1986 redistributions the Brisbane River was the 'natural' boundary of these electorates, and under this heading the successive electorates for the central city are listed in chronological sequence. Similar treatment is given under SOUTH BRISBANE, for the variants relevant to that area.

BURNETT

One of the sixteen original electorates proclaimed under the Order-in-Council of 6 June 1859 returning two members. By the 1872 Electoral Districts Act it was reduced to a single member constituency from 1873 until 1932 when the name was dropped as a result of the 1931 redistribution. The electorate was largely incorporated into Wide Bay (1931) and Marodian (1949) before being revived for the 1960 election. The 1991 redistribution extended this electorate north to include part of the former electorate of Callide and east to include part of the abolished electorate of Isis.

COOK

The Cook District Representation Act of 1875 initiated the seat with single member representation until 1878 when dual membership was granted. In 1887 the representation was reduced to one, and the name has survived successive redistributions to the present. In the 1991 redistribution Burketown and Mornington Island were lost to the electorate of Mount Isa. The 2008 redistribution transferred areas from the former Tablelands electorate into the Cook electorate and coastal areas (Ellis Beach, Palm Cove and Clifton Beach) from Cook into the Barron River electorate.

CUNNINGHAM

Established under the Electoral Districts Act of 1887 which split up the old seat of Darling Downs into Cunningham and Cambooya. The name was retained for the same area for many years and was substituted for Drayton in the 1922 redistribution when the name ceased to exist. The original seat stretched from Cunningham's Gap, west to Clifton and south to the NSW border excluding the town of Warwick. In the 1991 redistribution the electorate assumed much of its original shape, once more stretching south to the NSW border and including the town of Goondiwindi. Some of the northern part was lost to the new electorates of Crows Nest and Western Downs. Abolished by the 2008 redistribution with the urban parts transferred to Toowoomba South and the rural areas combined with parts of Darling Downs to revive the seat of Condamine.

LOCKYER

Created in the 1887 redistribution, the seat originally took in the area east of the Range at Toowoomba, including Gatton, Helidon and Laidley which had originally been in the Stanley electorate. Lockyer was abolished in the 1931 redistribution, being split up between West Moreton and East Toowoomba, but was re-established in the 1949 redistribution. The Yarraman area was added in 1977, and the 1986 redistribution resulted in small parts being transferred to Toowoomba North. In the 1991 redistribution the northern half of the electorate was lost to the new seat of Crows Nest while the southern part extended south to the NSW border taking over part of the abolished seats of Somerset and Fassifern. Changes in the 2017 redistribution included gaining several rural suburbs from the Ipswich West electorate.

LOGAN

Established under the 1872 Electoral Districts Act which cut off the southern or Gold Coast part of the electorate of East Moreton to form the seat, it survived boundary alterations in successive redistributions which saw the seat forced closer to the Brisbane area. It was abolished in the 1949 redistribution, with a substantial portion going into Coorparoo, and revived in 1959 for an outer Brisbane rural seat based on Redlands Shire, but dropped again in the 1971 redistribution. In 1986 the name was once again used for an electorate based on the north-eastern part of the Fassifern electorate and the north-western portion of Albert. In 1991 the eastern half of the electorate was lost, leaving it based on the suburbs of Marsden, Browns Plains, Boronia Heights and Park Ridge. Densely urban suburbs were lost in the 2017 redistribution in order to accommodate expected growth in rural parts of the electorate.

Rockhampton South reverted to Rockhampton in 1971.

see also Drayton and Toowoomba

Originally included in the seat of Drayton and Toowoomba, the city was an electorate of its own right (1873-78). From 1879-1911, it was coupled with Drayton as a dual member constituency. From 1911, Toowoomba returned one member. Other electorates, including Drayton, East Toowoomba to 1949, Lockyer and North Toowoomba 1949-59, covered parts of the city. In the 1959 redistribution Toowoomba was divided into east and west. In the 1971 redistribution, the electorate was re-apportioned into north and south, with some going into Lockyer.

TOWNSVILLE

Constituted by the Electoral Districts Act of 1878, which provided one member for the seat based on the city of Townsville. The Additional Members Act of 1885 divided the city into two electorates, Townsville and Musgrave. From 1886-1912, the seat returned two members. In the 1911 redistribution, single electorate were made universal and the electorates of Townsville and Mundingburra established. In 1923 the northern part of the city was included in Kennedy and the southern part in Mundingburra. The 1959 redistribution abolished Townsville as a seat, dividing the city into Townsville North and Townsville South. It was restored in the 1971 redistribution with a large area of rural Townsville formerly in Hinchinbrook. Major suburban areas were located in Townsville South and Townsville West. The 1986 redistribution reduced the area of the seat to the city environs. In the 1991 redistribution, the electorate gained a small area from the previous Townsville East and lost its south-west corner to the new seat of Mundingburra.
