Statements ordered to be withdrawn—

"... but the Minister for Justice did not take the case to a higher appellate court. Fielding not only won his case but the Minister for Justice removed Mr. Selwood from the Traffic Court Bench in Brisbane. Hon. members know who Mr. Fielding is. He is a brother of Fielding, the managing director of McWhirters, a close personal and political friend of the Minister for Justice. That is what happens to any magistrate who tries to impose a decent salutary penalty on a certain type of drunken driver.", 503.

"... a juryman told me later that they were not game to bring him in guilty on that charge because they were bulldozed by the defence counsel and the trial judge in relation to criminal negligence as it applies to motorists.", 503.

"I have yet to learn that either the Minister for Justice or the Minister for Labour and Industry is concerned with the innocent people who are slaughtered on the roads; they are concerned only with the welfare and protection of drunken and irresponsible drivers who slaughter the innocent people on the roads.", 503.

"Most of them are delinquents themselves," 709.

"Of course, I have to accept the assurance that he gave, that he was not, although I believe that he is a big shareholder.", 728.

"I honestly and truthfully believe that the honourable the Minister for Justice is a big shareholder, through a dummy, in a brewery; that is clear enough!", 729.

"I think he is a dingo," 873.

"I tell the people quite frankly that he is the Minister for profiteers, racketeers, and drunken killers, and in saying that I said the lot.", 899.

"You are one of the biggest landlords in Brisbane and one of the most unscrupulous.", 914.

"None other than Mr. Mack who was rewarded for his legal stoogism by elevation to the Supreme Court bench by the Government of the day.", 1635.

"I can understand him having sympathy for the homosexuals.", 1636.

"Under the present Speaker it is doubtful if this question would go on the business sheet.", 1806.

"Orrible Orace," 2336.

"... the shameful tactics of Mr. Justice Mack", 2404.

"Mr. Taylor, you are occupying my time", 2411.

"It was not the whole 25 minutes. I should say about 24 minutes.", 2629.
