MINISTERIAL STATEMENT

Weather Events, Recovery

 Hon. DF CRISAFULLI (Broadwater—LNP) (Premier and Minister for Veterans) (2.24 pm): Severe weather in the north and far north of the state has continued to develop overnight. Heavy rain is forecast over the next few days, while major flood warnings also continue in south-western Queensland, where large volumes of water will continue to see river rises in the weeks ahead. We are actively monitoring the situation right across the state and urging Queenslanders to do the same. Our concern is that, because of the wet start to the year, there are many catchments that are very swollen, but I want Queenslanders to know that we have pre-positioned our assets, emergency authorities are ready to go and I have every faith in Queenslanders being well prepared, and I want to thank them for it.
