Ms S Bolton asked Premier and Minister for Veterans (Hon. D Crisafulli)—

QUESTION:

With reference to the previous Parliament considering, yet not advancing, a review of the Parliamentary committee system—

Will the Premier commit to a timeframe for commissioning an independent review of the committee system and estimates processes?

ANSWER:

A critical function of parliamentary committee system is the Budget estimates process. The Crisafulli Government has committed to reforming the committee process to ensure greater transparency during Budget estimates.

Work has commenced on the reform process, and I look forward to updating all members on these improvements to accountability and transparency.
