DR FLEGG asked the Minister for Health (MR NUTTALL)—

QUESTION:

With reference to comments made by Queensland Health about unfulfilled specialists medical training positions in Queensland public hospitals—

Will he detail all the specialists training positions by speciality and indicating which hospital each position is attached to?

ANSWER:

Queensland Health has no record of any Queensland Health officer making comment on specialist medical training positions being ‘unfulfilled’ and it is not clear how a medical training position could be determined to be ‘unfulfilled’. It is therefore not possible to accurately answer the member’s question.
