

QUESTION ON NOTICE
No. 497
Asked on Wednesday, 20 April 2005

MS JARRATT asked the Minister for Primary Industries and Fisheries (MR PALASZCZUK)—

QUESTION:

Will he provide details about the expenditure of money generated by the Stocked Impoundment Permit Scheme in Queensland?

ANSWER:

The Stocked Impoundment Permit (SIP) Scheme applies to 29 dams throughout Queensland and was introduced to further support the development of recreational fisheries throughout regional Queensland.

The Scheme has proved to be very effective and has raised over $1.8 million to improve the quality of freshwater recreational fishing since its introduction in July 2000. The Government has proposed to increase the Scheme by adding an additional two impoundments. This proposal is contained in a Regulatory Impact Statement that is currently available for public comment.

SIP funds are distributed to community-based fish stocking groups for the purchase of fish fingerlings for stocking into dams associated with the Scheme as well as other activities aimed at enhancing the local fisheries.

To date, funding from the Scheme has resulted in the release of more than 4.5 million native fish fingerlings into the 29 dams that are on the Scheme.

The Permit Scheme supplements funds raised by volunteer members of the community-based fish stocking groups to enable continued improvement for Queensland's freshwater fisheries.

I have recently announced the distribution of over $460,000 for the 2005/06 financial year. The allocation of SIP funds to specific impoundments is attached.

The Permit Scheme ensures that quality freshwater recreational fishing opportunities continue to be available for the community to enjoy while helping to decrease pressure on river fisheries. Stocking fish into impoundments is necessary as many freshwater fish species are unable to breed in closed systems such as dams.

Annual financial summaries including a breakdown of the number and species of fish stocked into each dam as a result of funding from the Scheme is available on the Department's website - www.dpi.qld.gov.au/fishweb/10054.html.
