

Question on Notice

No. 1634

Asked on Tuesday, 30 October 2008

MR Hoolihan ASKED THE MINISTER FOR TRANSPORT, TRADE, EMPLOYMENT AND INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS (MR MICKEL)—

QUESTION:

Will he outline the successes of the Skilling Queenslanders for Work initiative in Central Queensland (including programs funded, amount of funding and number of people trained under the program) and detail the program providers contributing to the success of the initiative?

ANSWER:

I am advised that under the Skilling Queenslanders for Work initiative, the Queensland Government is continuing to help disadvantaged jobseekers to enter or return to the paid workforce.

More specifically, for the period 1 July 2007 to 30 September 2008, improved workforce participation within the Central Queensland region has been achieved through DEIR approval of $22.4M in grants funding to assist 5,976 participants, including the creation of 2,061 jobs.

Programs funded in Central Queensland region include:

- 50 x Skilling Queenslanders for Work Projects – a multi-tool program providing specialised accredited training, job preparation and work placement opportunities for individuals facing barriers to participation in the workforce;
- 16 x Get Set for Work Program projects – a program supporting 15-17 year old young people who have disengaged from school early to prepare for participating in the workforce or returning to school or training;
- 7 x Community Literacy Program projects – providing customised support to adults to improve their literacy, language and numeracy levels to allow them to participate in the workforce;
- the Indigenous Employment and Training Support Program provides culturally appropriate mentoring and support services to improve the completion and retention rates of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander apprentices, trainees and vocational students to maximise employment opportunities for Indigenous jobseekers. 1,154 Indigenous participants have been assisted through this program in this region in this period;
- the First Start program provides young people and other disadvantaged job seekers with opportunities to gain a nationally recognised qualification and paid work experience through subsidised apprenticeships and traineeships in the public and community sector. 166 people were assisted during this period; and

- the Youth Training Incentives program provides incentive payments to private and public sector employers for employing school based apprentices or trainees. 804 young people were assisted through this program.

During this period, 595 not-for-profit community based organisations, training providers, local councils, and public and private sector employers have received funding through these programs.

These organisations are detailed in Attachment A.
