

Question on Notice

No. 322

Asked on 1 May 2013

MR PITT ASKED THE MINISTER FOR EDUCATION, TRAINING AND EMPLOYMENT (MR LANGBROEK) –

QUESTION:

With reference to the government's decision to sell Balmoral State High School's cricket oval and statements from the Minister's spokeswoman that a number of other schools have had parcels of land earmarked for sale —

Will the Minister provide a list of all school assets being considered for sale?

ANSWER:

I thank the member for his question.

The school property, plant and equipment portfolio managed by my Department is worth over $18 billion. Therefore, it is prudent, particularly given population increases and movement, that the property portfolio is constantly reviewed to ensure we provide educational facilities where they are needed most. Only properties that are not currently required for the delivery of education services are considered for sale.

As the member would be aware, surplus land disposals also occurred under the former Bligh Government with $56.22 million worth of surplus land sold between 2008 and 2012.

Property that is determined to no longer be required for the delivery of education services is recommended to be declared surplus and approved for disposal as appropriate.

A number of the sites under consideration for disposal have been unused for many years, with some on the market under the previous Labor Government.

The funds raised from the disposal of surplus land is contributing to the Newman Government's commitment of $300 million of maintenance for state schools across Queensland. This commitment was necessary because of a $298 million maintenance black hole left behind by the Bligh Government.

We want to make schools places where children want to learn, and teachers want to teach and by the end of this financial year this commitment will have addressed the Bligh Government's maintenance backlog for 700 schools across Queensland.

The disposal process involves a number of stages of consideration. Sites identified in the list below may be at different stages of this process.
