

Question on Notice

No. 367

Asked on 20 May 2014

Ms Palaszczyk asked the Minister for Education, Training and Employment (Mr Langbroek)—

QUESTION:

Will the Minister advise (in table format) the (a) number of teachers allocated to each Queensland state school, based on day eight enrolment for 2014 and (b) student-teacher ratio for each Queensland state school in 2014?

ANSWER:

I thank the Member for her question.

The attached document provided to me by my department indicates the distribution of notional fulltime equivalent (FTE) teachers and derived student-teacher ratios for each Queensland state school and Queensland state high school, based on the 2014 Day 8 enrolment collection.

These teacher allocations do not include students with disabilities teachers, and additional specialist support teachers provided to assist students at risk of not achieving at school.

Specialist support teacher allocations may include behaviour management teachers, learning needs teachers, guidance officers, indigenous teachers and English as Additional Language/Dialect teachers.

Consistent with the Government's support for school autonomy, the staffing methodology for students with disabilities teachers and specialist support teachers is transitioning from a regionally managed process to a school-based resourcing model.

In the future, these allocations will go directly to schools, providing them with the resources and the autonomy to better provide the support required to students at their schools.

The Government believes that decisions about the support needs of students are best placed at the school level, by professionals who best know the needs of their students.
