Asked on 20 May 2014

Mr Pitt asked the Minister for Education, Training and Employment (Mr Langbroek) –

QUESTION:

Will the Minister advise (in table format) the number of teaching support staff allocated to each Queensland state school for each of the 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014 school years?

ANSWER:

I thank the Member for his question.

The Queensland Government is committed to providing all children across the state with the highest quality teaching and learning, in their early years, throughout their education and training and into the work force.

Teacher aides play an important role in our classrooms, contributing to the provision of a quality education by assisting and supporting teachers with the Prep and enhancement of learning materials and associated activities.

I have been advised by my Department that teaching support staff, also referred to as teacher aides, are allocated to schools based on the annual Day 8 enrolment collection.

Teacher aide allocations, expressed as hours per week, are contained in the attached document for the years 2010 to 2014.

In 2014 these allocations include a number of significant components including:

- base teacher aide allocations calculated on individual preparatory, primary and secondary school enrolments;
- a Preparatory to Year 3 teacher aide supplementation for schools with a notional Preparatory to Year 3 class teacher full-time equivalent of 3.5 or greater;
- a Primary Targeted Intervention Teacher Aide Hour allocation based on Preparatory to Year 3 school enrolments;
- an additional Preparatory teacher aide supplementation funded by this Government from the beginning of 2013. The Premier and I announced this program on 24 May 2012. I will involve an investment of $54 million over four years for Queensland state school Prep classes to have the equivalent of a full-time teacher aide in their classroom during all school hours;
- these teacher aide allocations may be further bolstered by additional teacher aides for students with disabilities, and additional specialist support teacher aides provided to assist students at risk of not achieving at school.
