

QUESTION ON NOTICE

No. 93

asked on Wednesday, 5 February 2020

MR S KNUTH ASKED THE MINISTER FOR NATURAL RESOURCES, MINES AND ENERGY (HON DR A LYNHAM)—

QUESTION:

With reference to my Question on Notice No. 1907 asked on 27 November 2019, the Ministerial response stated ‘records for the Heathlands and Jardine River resource reserves in the non-freehold land registry were created on the instructions for the former Environmental Protection Agency in 2007’—

Will the Minister provide a copy to me of those instructions received by the Department of Natural Resources Mines and Energy?

ANSWER:

The Department of Natural Resources, Mines and Energy has a requirement under the Land Act 1994 to keep a register of nature conservation areas and this includes resources reserves.

Resources reserves are dedicated and prescribed in the Nature Conservation (Protected Areas) Regulation 1994 and, therefore, satisfy the requirement to be recorded in the register of land in Queensland.

From 2005 to 2007, the then Department of Natural Resources and Water undertook a project to record all land in Queensland in the land register. Included in this project was all land managed and controlled by the then Environmental Protection Agency.

The Jardine River and Heathlands resources reserves were declared by regulation in 1994 and, through this project, these reserves were first recorded in the land register on 28 February 2007 and 27 August 2007 respectively.

The Department of Natural Resources, Mines and Energy has not been able to locate the historical document(s) that led to the initial recording of these resource reserves in the land register.

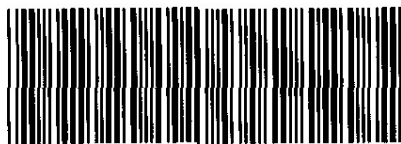

Notwithstanding that, after 13 years, the original correspondence cannot be located, it does not detract from the fact that the resources reserves were dedicated and prescribed in the Nature Conservation (Protected Areas) Regulation 1994 and were, in accordance with the requirements of the Land Act 1994, subsequently correctly recorded in the land registry.

Since 2013, there have been several changes as to how protected areas are categorised. In respect of resources reserves, this has meant that they were reclassified as regional parks in 2013 and then reinstated as resources reserves in 2016. These reclassification decisions were subsequently given effect through various legislative amendments.

To ensure the land register remained accurate, on 4 August 2014, the then Department of National Parks, Recreation, Sport and Racing lodged a request to have the Jardine River and Heathlands resources reserves cancelled (under dealing number 715931045 a copy of which is attached).

This was followed by requests to record the relevant lands in the register as regional parks (under dealing numbers 715931159 and 715931166 copies of which are attached).

Similarly, on 13 September 2016, the then Department of National Parks, Sport and Racing lodged a request to have both the Jardine and Heathlands regional parks cancelled (under dealing number 717511118 a copy of which is attached) and subsequently registered as resources reserves (under dealing numbers 717511158 and 717511172 copies of which are attached).
