Asked on 28 October 2025

Ms S Bolton asked Premier and Minister for Veterans (Hon. D Crisafulli)—

QUESTION:

With reference to the recent errors with crime statistics—

Will the Premier initiate an independent Queensland Crime Statistics Agency as utilised in other states, with information easily accessible and understandable, to end the ongoing confusion and conflicting interpretations of this data in Queensland?

ANSWER:

I refer the Member to the statement made in the House on 15 October 2025, by the Minister for Police and Emergency Services, found on pages 3086-3087 of Hansard: https://documents.parliament.qld.gov.au/events/han/2025/2025_10_15_WEEKLY.pdf

The Queensland Government Statistician's Office already contains the function referred to in the Member's question.

The Crisafulli Government is committed to restoring safety where you live and ensuring there are fewer victims of crime in Queensland.
