

MEMBERS' ETHICS AND PARLIAMENTARY PRIVILEGES COMMITTEE

Report No. 91

2007-08 Annual Report

Introduction and background

1. The Members' Ethics and Parliamentary Privileges Committee (MEPPC) is a statutory committee of the Queensland Parliament established under the Parliament of Queensland Act 2001 (POQA). Section 108 of the POQA requires the chairperson of each parliamentary committee to table in the Legislative Assembly a report about that committee's activities during the financial year. Section 108 provides—
 - (1) Within 4 months and 14 days after the end of each financial year, the chairperson of each committee that has met and conducted business during the year must table in the Assembly a report about the committee's activities during the year.
2. The current MEPPC (the committee) was appointed by resolution of the Legislative Assembly on 11 October 2006. This report is a summary of the current committee's activities for the period 1 July 2007 to 30 June 2008.

MEPPC's responsibilities

3. Section 90 of the POQA provides that the MEPPC has the following main areas of responsibility—
 - the ethical conduct of members; and
 - parliamentary powers, rights and immunities.

Ethical conduct—registration of interests

4. Pursuant to s 91 of the POQA, the MEPPC's area of responsibility about the ethical conduct of members includes—
 - examining the arrangements, under resolutions or the standing rules and orders of the Assembly, for compiling, keeping and allowing inspection of a register of the interests of members, and a register of the interests of persons related to members: s 91(a);
 - considering proposals made by members and other persons about the form and content of the registers and documents relevant to the registers, including statements of interests to be made by members: s 91(b);
 - considering complaints referred to the committee about the failure to register particular interests: s 91(c);
 - considering the classes of person who should be treated as related to a member: s 91(d);
 - publishing explanatory information about the requirements to register interests: s 91(e);
 - any other responsibility about the registration of interests the Assembly may order the committee to have: s 91(f); and

- considering any other issue about the registration of interests: s 91(g).

Ethical conduct—code of conduct

5. The MEPPC's area of responsibility about the ethical conduct of members, pursuant to s 92 of the POQA, includes—
 - publishing and reviewing a code of ethical conduct for members¹ (other than members in their capacity as ministers), including procedures for complaints about a member not complying with the code: s 92(1)(a);
 - the reform of legislation and standing rules and orders about the ethical conduct of members, including the registration or declaration of interests: s 92(1)(b);
 - considering complaints against particular members for failing to comply with the code of ethical conduct,² reporting on complaints to the Assembly and recommending action by the Assembly: s 92(1)(c);
 - publishing explanatory information about the obligations of members about their ethical conduct: s 92(1)(d); and
 - any other responsibility about the ethical conduct of members the Assembly may order the committee to have: s 92(1)(e).

Parliamentary powers, rights and immunities

6. Section 93 of the POQA provides that the MEPPC's area of responsibility about parliamentary powers, rights and immunities includes the powers, rights and immunities of the Assembly and its committees and members.
7. The MEPPC investigates and reports on matters of privilege and possible contempts of parliament referred to it by the Speaker or the House, and inquires into and reviews other significant issues regarding parliamentary privilege which the committee resolves to deal with.

Non-members' right of reply

8. Pursuant to the Standing Rules and Orders of the Legislative Assembly: Effective 31 August 2004 (Standing Orders),³ the MEPPC has responsibility for advising the Assembly concerning any requests for a right of reply by non-members (commonly referred to as the 'right of reply'). Under the right of reply procedure, persons or corporations (non-members) who are the subject of adverse comment made in parliament that affects their reputations are able to make a submission to have a response to those comments incorporated in Hansard or otherwise published by the Queensland Legislative Assembly.

Annual report of committee

9. An annual report of a committee, tabled in accordance with the POQA, must include—
 - a summary of issues considered by the committee, including a description of the more significant issues arising from the considerations: s 108(2)(b);
 - a brief description of responses by ministers to recommendations of the committee: s 108(2)(d);
 - a statement of the committee's revenue and spending for the year: s 108(2)(c); and
 - a list of meetings of the committee and the names of members attending or absent from each meeting: s 108(2)(a).

² Note 1.

³ Standing Orders 279 to 283.

Audit of Discharge of Responsibilities

10. The established practice of previous MEPPCs has been to table an Audit of Discharge of Responsibilities in conjunction with their annual reports. The audits contain details of further activities—outside the formal reporting requirements of the POQA—which the committees undertook during the reporting year to discharge their responsibilities.
11. In keeping with this practice, the committee is tabling, in conjunction with this report, an Audit of Discharge of Responsibilities relating to the activities of the committee for the period 1 July 2007 to 30 June 2008.

Summary of issues considered by the committee

Ethical conduct—registration of interests

12. The Register of Members' Interests is established under s. 263 of the Standing Orders. Schedule 2—Registers of Interests, contains the rules for the register. Standing Orders relating to the register and the conduct of members form part of the Code of Ethical Standards: Legislative Assembly of Queensland (the Code) and are published by the MEPPC as Appendix 1 of the Code of Ethical Standards booklet.
13. On 1 December 2006, the Registrar of Members' Interests⁴ (the Registrar) wrote to the MEPPC seeking urgent advice in relation to access to details from the registers of interests relating to previous parliaments and raised other (non-urgent) matters concerning the registers for the committee's consideration.
14. In Report No. 80 (tabled 8 February 2007) the committee dealt with the urgent matters, recommending amendments to the Standing Orders which were subsequently amended by the Legislative Assembly on 24 May 2007.⁵
15. The committee resolved to consider the other matters during a mid-term review of the arrangements for compiling, keeping and allowing inspection of the registers. The committee prepared Position Paper 1: Registration of Interests and issued this paper in October 2007 to all Members of the Queensland Legislative Assembly.
16. In connection with the matter the committee tabled Report No. 86, Mid-Term Review: Registration of Interests on 26 February 2008.
17. The MEPPC made four recommendations to amend the Standing Orders and a further two recommendations to be considered by the Registrar.

Ethical conduct—code of conduct

18. The Code of Ethical Standards is complemented by Information Notices for members of the Legislative Assembly, which are published by the committee, circulated to all members and tabled in the Assembly. The Information Notices provide guidance to members about the practical effect of Standing Orders relating to members' conduct.
19. The MEPPC did not table any documents relating to ethical conduct—code of conduct during the reporting period.

⁴ Section 4 of Schedule 2 of the Standing Orders provides that there is to be a Registrar of Members' Interests and that the Clerk of the Parliament is to be the Registrar.

⁵ Members' Ethics and Parliamentary Privileges Committee, Matter Referred under Schedule 2 of the Standing Rules and Orders of the Legislative Assembly (Report No. 80), Queensland Legislative Assembly, Brisbane, 2007.

Ministerial responses to committee recommendations

24. Where a report of a committee (other than the Scrutiny of Legislation Committee) recommends that the government or a minister should take particular action, or not take particular action, about an issue, the minister responsible is required to provide the Legislative Assembly with a response: s 107, POQA. A response tabled in accordance with s 107 must set out any recommendations to be adopted, and the way and time within which they will be carried out, and any recommendations not to be adopted and the reasons for not adopting them.
25. The POQA requires the minister to table the response within three months after the report is tabled. If the minister cannot comply with this requirement, they are required to table an interim response within three months and a final response within six months. Responses to recommendations made by the MEPPC are discussed below.
26. One MEPPC report (Report No. 86) made recommendations requiring a response under s 107 of the POQA.
